NEW PUBLICATIONS.

BOOKS OF THE WEEK. A new religious story, by the author of the

"Win and Wear Series," entitled Girding on the Armor, is published by Robert Carter & Brothers. The Sabbath-School Index, by R. G. PARDEE. A. M. (Philadelphia: J. C. Garrigues & Co.), is intended as a complete practical manual on the subject, to which It is devoted, comprising the results of the experience and observation of Sunday School teachers, since their first cetablishment in Great Britain toward the close of the last century. The Republic of Liberia, compiled by G. S. STOCKWELL (A. S. Barnes & Co.), gives a history of the early settlement of Liberia, with an account of its progress in education, missionary labor, the abolition of the slave trade, and general civilization and culture. It has slave trade, and general evintation in been compiled from a variety of authentic sources, and abounds with information relating to the Western coast of Africa which cannot be obtained in such a condensed form from any other work.

Letters from the Frontier, by Major-General GEORGE A. McCall (Philadelphia: J. B. L.ppincott & Co. New-York: James Miller). The correspondence, of which this volume consists, commenced as long ago as the year 1822, soon after the graduation of the author at West Point, and closes with the resignation of his command as Inspector-General of the United States Army in 1853. The etters are mostly addressed to the relatives or intimate friends of the writer, and their familiar and unpretending style, as well as frequent instances of careless expression. show that they were not intended for a wider circle of readers. They relate chiefly to the customs and character of social life in Florida, and to the military experience of the author among the Indians and in Mexico.

A New Grammar of French Grammars, by Dr. V. DE FIVAS, M. A., is published by D. Appleton & Co. It comprises the substance of all the most approved French grammars in general use, especially of the standard authority in the study of the language, "Grammaire des Grammaires." The latest decisions of the French Academy, together with the most important rules of the best modern French grammarians, are embodied in its pages. With the frequent changes that have taken place in the orthography and construction of French, this is a valuable feature, although it is usually neglected in the manuals of great popular celebrity. Mr. Marcel, one of the most intelligent living writers on the study of language, speaks of this work as possessing superior merit in point of clearness and conciseness, and as a trust worthy guide to the true principles of French grammar. It is intended for pupils somewhat advanced in a knowledge of the language, who alone are able to use any grammar to advantage, and for them it affords a convenient compendium of principles, with the practical appli eation of which they are supposed to be already familiar

A sequel to the "History of the United States Sanitary Commission," by Thomas W. Evans, M. D., entitled Sanitary Institutions during the Austro-Prussian Italian Conflict, has been recently issued in Paris, and an English translation of the work which was originally written in French, is printed for private distribution, and can be obtained of Messrs. John Wiley & Son in this city. Our distinguished countryman whose philanthropi labors are familiar to American visitors in Paris, devoted himself, with eminent success, during our late war to bringing the work of the United States Sanitary Commis sion before the attention of the European public, and had the satisfaction to see the principles and methods of that institution adopted in the sanitary measures that were carried into effect during the recent brief conflict between Austria and Prussia. The present volume describes the admirable voluntary services for the relief of the sick and wounded that were performed by philanthropic associations on both sides of that sanguinary contest. It is a work full of information of permanent value, and will b read with interest by Americans, and especially by those who took part in the systematic efforts by which so many brave and patriotic men were saved to the cause of the
